APPENDIX 1

NEW ZEALAND–GERMAN ACADEMIC LINKS AGREEMENT RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ADMISSION TO HIGHER EDUCATION STUDIES

Decisions on admission of students with German qualifications to New Zealand universities and students with New Zealand qualifications to German higher education institutions will be made by the receiving institution.

To assist universities in the decision-making process, the New Zealand Vice-Chancellors' Committee (NZVCC) and the Hochschulrektorenkonferenz (HRK) have agreed to the following recommendations. They are aware that changes of structures and standards in both systems may require, from time to time, a review of these recommendations.

(1) Language

German and New Zealand students wishing to study in the other country should demonstrate an appropriate level of competence in the language of tuition.

(2) Recognition of Higher Education Qualifications

In principle, periods of study at higher education institutions in New Zealand or Germany should be regarded as comparable on a year-to-year basis. However, there are programmes and awards in each system that do not lend themselves to direct comparisons with awards in the other system and these should be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Also, individual institutions may have specific standards, such as grades or other evaluation requirements, to be satisfied as prerequisites for admission to particular programmes of study at a higher level and in the same discipline.

(2.1) Admission of German Students and Graduates

The German Vordiplom/Zwischenprüfung should be regarded as comparable to two years of study towards a bachelor's degree in New Zealand.

Students with a Vordiplom/Zwischenprüfung plus an additional year of study at a higher level and in the same discipline (three years in total) should be eligible for admission to New Zealand graduate programmes which have as a prerequisite a three-year undergraduate degree or equivalent.

Holders of a German Bakkalaureus/Bachelor's degree awarded after three years of study should be eligible for admission to New Zealand graduate programmes (including relevant master's programmes) which have as a prerequisite a three-year undergraduate degree or equivalent.

Holders of a German Bakkalaureus/bachelor's degree awarded after four years of study should be eligible for admission to New Zealand graduate programmes. They may be considered, on a case-by-case basis, for candidature for doctoral studies in New Zealand if the degree includes a substantial thesis or research project and has been awarded with an overall grade of "good" or "very good".

Holders of a Diplom (FH) from a Fachhochschule (University of Applied Sciences) should be eligible for admission to New Zealand graduate programmes that have as a prerequisite an undergraduate degree or equivalent.

Holders of a German Diplom, Magister/Masters degree or a Staatsprüfung awarded with an overall grade of "good" or "very good" may be considered for candidature for doctoral studies in New Zealand.

Other students should be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

(2.2) Admission of New Zealand Students and Graduates

Holders of a New Zealand bachelor's degree awarded after three years of study should be eligible for admission to the German Hauptstudium with advanced standing in accordance with the profile of their prior studies, or for admission to graduate studies (Magister/master programmes) in accordance with the profile of their prior studies.

Holders of a New Zealand bachelor's degree with Honours, with thesis or research project and the classification "First Class" or "Second Class, Upper Division" may be considered for candidature for doctoral studies in Germany.

Holders of a New Zealand master's degree by research should be eligible for candidature for doctoral studies in Germany (Doktorand).

Holders of a New Zealand master's degree by coursework should be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

(3) Doctorate

The New Zealand PhD and the German Doctorate should be regarded as equivalent.
