ARTICLE 4 Admissions

(1) The basis for entry for students will be agreed between each home and host institution, with each taking into account applicants' records of achievement, goals and the comparability of courses to be undertaken. To guide admission decisions, the Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee and the Hochschulrektorenkonferenz will engage in further consultations to set up recommendations for admission for Australian and German students and graduates at the higher education institutions in both countries, including the admission to doctoral studies. These recommendations shall become part of this agreement as Appendix 1.

ARTICLE 9 Duration

This agreement shall be valid for five years. It shall be valid for a further five years unless one of the parties gives written notice of discontinuation at least six months before the date of its termination. Any amendments shall be agreed in writing after joint consultations.

ARTICLE 10

(1) This agreement has been drawn up in English and German. Both texts have full validity.

APPENDIX 1AUSTRALIAN–GERMAN ACADEMIC LINKS AGREEMENT
RECOMMENDATIONS FOR ADMISSION TO HIGHER EDUCATION STUDIES of 8 September 2000

Decisions on admission of students with German qualifications to Australian universities and students with Australian qualifications to German higher education institutions will be made by the receiving institution.

To assist universities in the decision-making process, the Australian Vice-Chancellors' Committee (AVCC) and the Hochschulrektorenkonferenz (HRK) have agreed to the following recommendations. They are aware that changes of structures and standards in both systems may require, from time to time, a review of these recommendations.

(1) Language

German and Australian students wishing to study in the other country should demonstrate an appropriate level of competence in the language of tuition.

(2) Recognition of Secondary School Qualifications for Admission to Higher Education Institutions

For recognition of secondary school qualifications, institutions are referred to the recommendations laid down in the Memorandum of Understanding between the National Office of Overseas Skills Recognition (NOOSR) in the Australian Department of Education, Training and Youth Affairs and the Zentralstelle für ausländisches Bildungswesen (Central Office for Foreign Education) in the Secretariat of the Standing Conference of Ministers of Education and Cultural Affairs of the Länder in the Federal Republic of Germany (KMK) of 11 September 1998.

(3) Recognition of Higher Education Qualifications

In principle, periods of study at higher education institutions in Australia or Germany should be regarded as comparable on a year-to-year basis. However, there are programs and awards in each system that does not lend them to direct comparisons with awards in the other system and these should be considered on a case-by-case basis.

Also, individual institutions may have specific standards, such as grades or other evaluation requirements, to be satisfied as prerequisites for admission to particular programs of study.

(3.1) Admission of German Students and Graduates

The German Vordiplom/Zwischenprüfung should be regarded as comparable to two years of study towards a Bachelors degree in Australia.

Students with a Vordiplom/Zwischenprüfung plus an additional year of study (three years in total) should be eligible for admission to Australian graduate programs which have as a prerequisite a three-year undergraduate degree or equivalent.

Holders of a German Bakkalaureus/Bachelors degree awarded after three years of study should be eligible for admission to Australian graduate programs (including relevant Masters programs) which have as a prerequisite a three-year undergraduate degree or equivalent.

Holders of a German Bakkalaureus/Bachelors degree awarded after four years of study should be eligible for admission to Australian graduate programs. They may be considered, on a case-by-case basis, for candidature for doctoral studies in Australia if the degree includes a substantial thesis or research project and has been awarded with an overall grade of "good" or "very good".

Holders of a Diplom (FH) from a Fachhochschule (University of Applied Sciences) should be eligible for admission to Australian graduate programs that have as a prerequisite an undergraduate degree or equivalent.

Holders of a German Diplom, Magister/Masters degree or a Staatsprüfung awarded with an overall grade of "good" or "very good" may be considered for candidature for doctoral studies in Australia.

Other students should be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

(3.2) Admission of Australian Students and Graduates

Holders of an Australian Bachelors degree awarded after three years of study should be eligible for admission to the German Hauptstudium with advanced standing in accordance with the profile of their prior studies, or for admission to graduate studies (Magister/Master programs) in accordance with the profile of their prior studies.

Holders of an Australian Bachelors degree with Honours, with thesis or research project and the classification "First Class" or "Second Class, Upper Division" may be considered for candidature for doctoral studies in Germany.

Holders of an Australian Masters degree by research should be eligible for candidature for doctoral studies in Germany (Doktorand).

Holders of an Australian Masters degree by coursework should be assessed on a case-by-case basis.

(4) Doctorate

The Australian PhD and the German Doctorate should be regarded as equivalent.
