

27.5.2026

Author

WEST, Peter W. A.

Title

Conflict in higher education and its resolution

Publication year

2006

Source/Footnote

In: Higher education quarterly. - 60 (2006) 2, S. 187 - 197

Inventory number

20451

Keywords

Ausland : Großbritannien : einzelne Hochschulen ; Ausland : Großbritannien : Hochschulwesen
allgemein ; Hochschule : Idee und Aufgabe

Abstract

Universities are famous for their resilience and longevity. Yet, when serious disputes arise, as in the University College of Swansea in 1989, their structures can be tested to the limit. Taking those events as a case study, this paper examines critically the option of choosing private sector approaches. It then develops its central argument: the most robust systems will be those that marry together academic and managerial values. (HRK / Abstract übernommen)