Notes

1. This provision covers all employment in Germany and is therefore not specifically applicable to scientific professions. Pursuant to § 18(1) Residence Act, the admission of foreign employees is geared to the requirements of the German economy, according due consideration to the situation on the labour market.
2. This applies to dissertations that are produced as part of ‘doctoral studies’ (see the explanation to Art. 1 § 16 of the draft law, Bundestag document 15/420, p. 74).
3. Pursuant to § 19(a) (2) sentence 1 no. 2, the Federal Ministry of Labour and Social Affairs can also determine by regulation occupations in which a qualification equivalent to a university degree may be demonstrated by at least five years of professional experience. As yet, no such measure has been adopted.
4. If they produce their dissertation as part of a research activity for which a hosting agreement was concluded with the officially approved research institution. This does not apply to foreigners whose research activities form part of ‘doctoral studies’ (see § 20(7) no. 4 Residence Act and the General Administrative Regulations for the Residence Act No. 20.7). The wording of § 20(7) no. 4 Residence Act is open to interpretation, leading to inconsistent definitions of the foreigners’ authorities regarding the concept of ‘doctoral studies’.
5. Generally, the granting of a residence permit presupposes the proof that the foreigner’s livelihood is secure including adequate health insurance coverage for the time of his or her stay in Germany (see § 5(1) (1) in conjunction with § 2(3) Residence Act).
6. With regard to a resident permit pursuant to § 16, livelihood is deemed secure in accordance with § 2(3) sentence 5 Residence Act, if the foreigner has sufficient financial resources available to cover the monthly needs pursuant to §§ 13 and 13(a)(1) Federal Law on Educational Support, presently amounting to 659 €.
7. With regard to a residence permit pursuant to § 19(a)(2) no. 1 Residence Act, § 2(1) no.2(a) Ordinance on Employment stipulates a gross income amount equivalent to two thirds of the rate of the income threshold for the statutory pension insurance schemes (annual gross income, presently 47,600 €). For shortage occupations such as STEM professionals or medical practitioners, § 2(2) sentence 1 Ordinance on Employment stipulates a minimum gross income equivalent to 52 percent of the rate of the income threshold for the statutory pension insurance schemes (annual gross income, presently 37.128 €). Because of the linkage to the income threshold for the statutory pension insurance system, the minimum income thresholds may be adjusted at the beginning of the year. For each calendar year, the Federal Ministry of the Interior announces the new minimum income threshold at the latest by 31st December of the previous year in the German Federal Gazette.
8. With regard to a residence permit pursuant to § 20 Residence Act, § 2(3) sentence 6 Residence Act provides that an amount equivalent to two thirds of the reference amount within the meaning of § 18 of the Code of Social Law IV is deemed sufficient to cover living costs (monthly net income presently 1,843.33 € for pay scale area West and 1,563.33 € for pay scale area East). In individual cases, a lower net income may be considered sufficient, if health insurance cover is adequate and if eligibility to social security payments is not applicable (see also the General Administrative Regulation No. 2.3.7 to the Residence Act). For each calendar year, the Federal Ministry of the Interior announces the new minimum income threshold at the latest by 31st December of the previous year in the Federal Gazette.
9. In practice, foreigners’ authorities may require proof of basic German language skills within their margin of assessment.
10. If the activity of the research institution is mainly financed by public resources, the presentation of the cost assumption declaration should be waived (see the General Administrative Regulations for the Residence Act No. 20(2)).
11. See § 19(a)(3) Residence Act
12. See § 20(4) Residence Act
13. See § 16(4) Residence Act. For this time period, the residence permit entitles the holder to pursue an economic activity.
14. See § 18(c)(3) Residence Act. The grant of a residence permit pursuant to § 18c of the Residence Act requires that the holder has secure means of subsistence and does not entitle the holder to pursue an economic activity. Extension beyond 6 months is not possible.
15. Student secondary/part-time jobs include work limited to academic activities for university-related organisations with the subject matter relating to the studies (e.g. tutors working in halls of residence run by the student services organisation, counselling activities of university associations, student committees or the World University Service). Problems of definition should be clarified with the participation of the higher education institution (see also the General Administrative Regulation No. 16.3.3 to the Residence Act).
16. See § 9(1) Residence Act
17. See § 20(6) Residence Act
18. Graduates who have found adequate employment do not need the approval of the Federal Employment Agency.
19. See § 2(1) sentence 1, no. 1 Ordinance on Employment
20. Provided that the foreigner has the minimum income required, is in possession of a national tertiary degree or is employed as researcher by a Higher Education Institution or a research institution (see § 2(1) sentence 1 no. 2 and § 5 Ordinance on Employment).
21. See § 19(a)(4) Residence Act
22. See § 34 sentence 3 Ordinance on Residence
23. See § 30(1) sentence 1 no. 3(a) Residence Act
24. See §§ 27(4) and 30(1) sentence 1 no. 3(g) Residence Act
25. See §§ 27(4) and 30(1) sentence 1 no. 3(c) Residence Act
26. See § 27(5) Residence Act
27. In principle, proof of basic German language skills is required for spouses pursuant to § 30(1) sentence 1 no. 2 Residence Act.
28. See § 32 Residence Act
29. This requirement may be waived in cases of little need for integration measures (e.g. proof of completed studies at a Higher Education Institution; see § 30(1) sentence 3 no. 3 Residence Act).
30. If the ‘principal’ person is in possession of a residence permit pursuant to §§ 19, 20 or 21 Residence Act and the marriage already existed at the time when he or she established their main ordinary residence in the Federal territory, the requirement of proof of basic German language skills is waived for the spouse pursuant to § 30(1) sentence 2 no. 1 Residence Act.
31. Pursuant to § 30(1) sentence 3 no. 5, the spouse of the holder of an EU Blue Card is not required to give proof of German language skills.
32. See § 1(7) Parenting Benefit and Parental Leave Act
33. See § 1(7) sentence 1 no. 2(a) Parenting Benefit and Parental Leave Act
34. See § 1(7) sentence 1 no. 2(b) Parenting Benefit and Parental Leave Act
